Prologue

THE "ANNUAL" STAFF offers this volume to the members and friends of the Rockford High School with the hope that it reflects the spirit of this institution.

We have endeavored to record the different phases of school life, the passing pageant of events, and past achievements.

It is our desire that those who turn the pages of this book will live again in memory the happy days spent in dear old R. H. S.

JOHN T. HAIGHT

Dedication

WE, the Class of 1921, accord the dedication of this book to Mr. John T. Haight—to whom we owe much—for it is through his untiring efforts that the Band has been so successful and attained such fame.

The Band has been a big factor in our school life. Probably no other organization has heightened and strengthened our school spirit to as great a degree.

The Class of '21

We are a class of great renown
This class of '21
Just listen while we tell you
A few things we have done.

We entered High four years ago
A full three hundred strong—
We've never shirked in work or play
But thundered right along.

They asked the school to sell Thrift Stamps
And each one did his best
But Harriett D. of '21
Sold more than all the rest.

In Rockford sports our high school boys
Have always led the state—
Our Senior class has given much
Now list while I relate.

Just watch those boys by Zula led
Go smashing thro the line
Did you ever see a team so bold
Or a sight that's half so fine?

In basket ball we did our share
And led all other classes,
Six stars we gave to the heavy team
Their work all praise surpasses.

In scholarship we stand the test
As the honor roll will show—
The teachers point to us with pride
As guides to those below.

The Class of '21 I sing
Brave lads and handsome lasses
First in song, in dance, in sport
And always first in classes.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLAY

It is upon the advice and capital of his friends that Nat Duncan, the younger fortune hunter, decides to embark upon a wife-hunting expedition. The scheme is to go to a small town and live very quietly for one year. The theory upon which the pursuit is conducted is that in a small town there is at least one girl who has a fortune. All the young men who are worth while move away to larger cities to make their fortunes, but the poor girls have to remain behind, and those who are really above the average are forced to remain single, because they will not marry the riff-raff which remains, according to the theorists. This leaves Duncan with a clear field in any town which he selects.

Duncan's experiences prove the theory. The village bankers' daughter really falls in love with him, and in accordance with expectations, it is actually she who proposes before the end of the year. But there is no such sordid end to the tale. It has been a part of the program that Nat should work during his year of residence in the village. He has found that work is really interesting, and brings its own rewards. He has become a successful business man while endeavoring to win an easy fortune, and at the same time he has found the girl who can make him happy, and it does not happen to be the girl with the fortune.

Play given under the direction of Miss Arva L. Brady

The Sophomore Class

No class is more active in the life of the school than the Sophomore class. It is true that we cannot at present claim to be the leaders in school activities, for there are too many others in school who are more experienced than we. But our time is coming, and in the interval we are taking an active interest which is bound to fit us to be the most successful class that old R. H. S. has ever turned out.

Cast your eyes over the various school organizations—the band, the orchestra, the glee clubs, the literary societies, and others—and who do you note as the real live wire members? Sophomores, of course.

Attend a football game, a basketball game, or go out on the field and watch the track men at work. Once again you will find that the Sophomores are the ones who furnish the pep and make things go.

And as for the Honor Roll, just note how long it has grown in the last two years.

“The Scholars”

Where is the scholar whose clear mind can hold
The floral text of one sweet June mead?
The flowing lines, which few can spell indeed
Though most will note the scarlet and the gold
Around the flourishing capitals grandly scrolled;
But ah, the subtle cadences that need
The lover's heart, the lover's heart to read,
And ah, the songs unsung, the tales untold.
Poor fools—capped scholars—grammar keeps us close,
The primers thrall us, and our eyes grow dim:
When will old Master Science hear the call,
Bid us run free with life in every limb
To breathe the poems, and hear the last red rose
Gossiping over life's grey garden wall?

Freshmen

Freshmen History

Last September Miss Brown "had so many children she didn't know what to do" so she very conscientiously gave some to Miss Remsburg. These children were some very awe-stricken "Freshies."

The first week or so the very dignified Upper Classmen would pause, glance down and scornfully say, "Freshie." When the Honor Roll appeared the "Freshie" was changed to "Freshmen."

This year, more than any other, Freshmen have entered school life. The renowned Dickens Club is a Freshman Club. Several Freshmen have appeared on programs at assemblies. The girls have the "peppiest" basketball team ever organized. At football and basketball games the "Freshies" were noted for their lung power.

The crowning event of the season was the introduction of Mister and Miss Freshman into society. On March seventeenth, a party was given for Freshmen only by the English Department. The affair was very pleasing. The green decorations proved appropriate in more ways than one.

The wit of the Freshmen has saved them from disaster. It has also helped the "Owl" to fill in space when some Senior forgot to hand in his theme on, "How to Be Dignified."

All year we have toiled to attain the majestic dignity of the Sophomores. Then we will no longer stand in awe of the Upper Classmen and we too, may pause, glance down, and scornfully say, "Freshie" till the Honor Roll appears.

We, the Freshmen, sincerely hope the future Freshmen will maintain the wisdom and "pep" of this year's Freshmen.

Girls' Student Council

The members of the Student Council this year were appointed by the various study hall teachers. We as members of the Council are interested in the betterment of school conditions not only among the girls, but the student body in general. The Student Council is a medium between the students and the faculty and vice versa. It enters in all phases of our school life.

This year the Girls' Student Council promoted a "Clean Up Campaign" the day we beat Elgin, uniting the idea of a cleaner school building with our clean athletics.

Boys' Student Council

The Boys' Student Council of 1921 has been very progressive this year. Meetings have been held every Wednesday morning. The members have been very much interested in trying to improve the conditions in the building. To accomplish this feat a "Clean Up Campaign" was launched.

To help a Hoover Relief Fund the Council put on rallies and assemblies which have been very profitable to the student body and have increased the interest in the school.

Library Board

The Library Board of the Rockford High School is one of the most progressive and efficient organizations in the school. Its aim is to help in the routine of the library work and in the many details that present themselves daily. Everyone knows the aim of the library—to provide a place where every student may easily find all the extra reference books he may need. It was begun in 1915 with several hundred books but now it contains about 4500.

The Library Board was created in 1916 when twenty-four students were chosen as assistant librarians. Then the pupils were elected from the various study halls. This plan did not work out very well, however, so now the teacher in charge of one of the four classes selects seven pupils, one for each hour or twenty-eight. The work is usually divided so that two persons take care of the admits and the other two shelve the books. During the first hour the admits collected the day before are called for from each study hall, separated according to the teachers who have issued them, and in the second hour, taken to the office and put in the drawers where they belong.

Philomathean Literary Society

Conditions during the year have been especially unfavorable for Philo. A great number of the "old standbys," staunch supporters of the society, graduated last year, and there seems to be very little interest among the members of the student body in activities of a literary nature.

In spite of these circumstances, a few of last year's men, together with some valuable additions during the season, have been constantly at work, and have kept Philo "on the map" in school affairs. In March the society sponsored a delightful St. Patrick's Day dance, which proved to be a success in every way.

A series of open meetings had been planned with the Delphic Literary Society, but the temporary dissolution of that organization made it impossible to carry out the proposition. The weekly programs of the Philos, which have included music, speeches, short talks and debates, have been very entertaining as well as of value intellectually.

The Philomathean Literary Society is now ten years old. If the old Philo spirit asserts itself in the future as it has in the past, there is no reason why the school should lose the organization that has been so great a factor in its life.

The Agriculture Club

C. S. ANDERSON

At the opening of school last year the Agriculture Club adopted the constitution and by-laws of the state vocational agriculture clubs, thus becoming a part of a large state organization of agriculture clubs. There are now over a hundred such clubs in the high schools of Illinois.

The semi-monthly meetings held by the club have been well attended and the programs have been both entertaining and educational. Two members for each meeting were appointed by Glen Stocking, the program manager, to be responsible for the programs.

Interesting agricultural topics were taken up by the club members, and a number of outside speakers addressed the club, among them being County Agent Chas. Keltner, Wilford Johns, E. W. Engstrom, and K. K. Plambeck.

Each year the club sponsors a trip to Chicago to attend the International Stock Show. Additional points of interest visited this year were The Argo Corn Products Co., The Board of Trade, and The Coliseum Poultry Show. The boys were guests at luncheon given by Swift & Co., and were entertained by Armour & Co. One evening was spent at the Blackstone Theater seeing Drinkwater's Abraham Lincoln. The club hopes to attend The National Dairy Show in addition to the Stock Show next year.

Both an Agricultural Club basketball and baseball team have been active this year. Club athletics are new this year. The social events started early in the fall with a wienie roast at Sinnissippi Park, and several informal get-togethers and parties have been held during the year.

Wireless Club

The Rockford High School Wireless Club is made up of students who have wireless equipment in operation in their own homes, and who are in communication, by radio, with the club's powerful station at all times.

The members of the club have worked diligently, and during the past year surprising results have been obtained. The sensitive receiver has picked up signals from every part of the United States, Canada and Alaska. Musical concerts sent out by wireless telephone transmitters in different parts of the country are enjoyed by the members.

The transmitter has a range of over two hundred miles, and in a series of tests, signals from this station were heard over a distance of more than one hundred miles.

Additions are constantly being made to the set, and it is now one of the best equipped stations in the city.

Admiratrices Des Belles Lettres

Founded March, 1921

This society whose qualification for membership is based upon scholarship is still in its infancy. But because of the strength of its purpose and ideals it is gradually becoming one of the mightiest and most living factors of our school life.

To become eligible a student must be recommended by the faculty and then chosen by the society. Four weeks before Commencement Week of each year the society elects new members and officers, from the Junior and Senior Classes.

As yet the society is still in its infancy but it is hoped that as the students become better acquainted with its purpose and ideals that it will become a mighty factor in the promotion of better scholarship.

French Club

The French Club was organized in September 1920 by the students of the French classes. The officers elected were: Margaret Bodorff, President; Burdette Sowle, Vice-President; Adelaide McFadyen, Secretary; and Henry Douglas, Treasurer. The faculty critics were: Mlle. Andre, Mlle. Adam, and Miss Rice. Clara Henderson was appointed chairman of the program committee.

During the first semester the French club met every Thursday of every other week at which time a program was given. The club sponsored a party the first semester and this was a decided success. The second semester the club was reorganized and new officers were elected. Those elected were: Margaret Bodorff, President; Ida Louise Loving, Vice-President; Kenneth Olson, Treasurer; and Edward Pizer, Secretary. The faculty critics were the same as the first semester. Raymond Lundell was appointed club reporter.

It was decided to hold meetings during the second semester on Wednesday of every other week instead of Thursday. A successful party was sponsored by the club the second semester also.

The club has for its purpose the promotion of interest in the French language among the French students and others as well. Only those taking French are eligible to membership. At the meetings French songs and readings are part of the program. The meetings are carried on in French whenever possible. The club has been very successful and is growing in popularity as shown by the many new members taken in each semester.

The Dickens Club

The Dickens Club is a new organization in our school this year. It is a literary society composed exclusively of Freshmen of 1920-1921. This does not mean, however, that after these Freshmen have become Sophomores or Juniors that they will cease to be Dickens Club members, for the slogan is: "Once a Dickens Club Member, Always a Dickens Club Member!"

The membership of the club wavers near the hundred mark. The colors of the club are gold and black. The motto taken from Charles Dickens, is significant: "If you master the English language you will need no slang to re-enforce it." The aim of the club is to portray the best of literature in an interesting way before a social group. The experience of club activity will benefit its members.

A number of programs have been given this school year. Some of the feature entertainments were the Christmas, the Young America, the Gypsy, and the Spring Programs. From the list of members, talent has been coming to light through the medium of the society—budding artists, readers, singers, and executives have popped into prominence. Let's hope that these people continue the Dickens Club next year, and will continue it one hundred strong.

The Orchestra

"The call came and likewise the volunteers." In the fall of 1918, an appeal was made by one of the members of the High School Faculty to organize an orchestra. With the success of the football teams and the popularity of the band at the height of its glory, Mr. J. C. Bornor decided to try his achievements along this line. The year of 1920 found the orchestra composed of twenty-seven students of the school and a list of thirteen, eagerly awaiting the opportunity to prove their talent.

After three years of strenuous work and long rehearsals the Rockford High School Orchestra has reached attainment far above their anticipation. Their efforts have long been appreciated by those who have had the opportunity of being present at different functions and concerts in which the young musicians have participated. The orchestra have contributed their services many times since the beginning of the organization.

Besides assisting the Public Speaking Department in rendering a number of selections at different times, the orchestra has also aided in the Senior Baccalaureate exercises and assemblies on various occasions.

The concerts given annually are the most brilliant affairs of the season and show well the efficiency of Mr. Bornor, director, and the untiring efforts of the young musicians.

The members are some of the most popular students of the school and number about forty-five, an increase of even ten players from last year. Besides the regular orchestra there are eight on the waiting list.

Elaborate plans were made for the big Annual Banquet which was held in the early spring. Many of the alumni attended and the banquet proved a decided success.

The Girls' Glee Club

One of the most prosperous years ever enjoyed by the Girls' Glee Club has been experienced since their reorganization in September of 1920 with Miss Marjorie Ely, head of the High School Music Department, as director.

Seventy-five girls applied for membership and after each had submitted to a voice test forty-five were accepted as Glee Club members and the remainder became a part of the Girls' Chorus. Second semester fifty-seven girls were accepted as members.

At the Christmas Carol Service held in the High School Auditorium the Sunday afternoon before Christmas, the Girls' Glee Club showed Rockford citizens in several well received numbers the results of careful training and persistent practice. Late in the Spring the Club played an important part in the final musical event of the year which was in the form of an operetta, entitled, "Little Almond Eyes" and was given by combined efforts of the entire music department.

A number of social events have added to the year's success. Pot-luck suppers and picnics have featured to the enjoyment of all. A special party was given March 18, for the initiation of new members. However, the most enjoyable event socially was the Annual Spring Hop which took place April 1, in the Boys' Gymnasium, the special guests being the newly organized Boys' Glee Club.

The Club holds elections of officers each semester. Those holding office during the first semester were: President, Helen Stokes; Vice-President, Elsie Ritter; Treasurer, Myrna Frasser; Secretary, Marion Redin; Librarians, Gladys Nulty and Hazelle Cole; Reporter, Florence Cope. Second semester officers were: President, Hazelle Cole; Vice-President, Elsie Ritter; Treasurer, Florence Cope; Secretary, Gladys Nulty; Librarians, Kathryn Ebsen and Harriet Henderson; Reporter, Effay Beynon.

The Boys' Glee Club

Rockford High School has been without a Boys' Glee Club for some time and during this time has felt badly the need of such an organization. Several times during the year attempts have been made to organize a Glee Club, but without much success. Finally, through the efforts of Miss Ely, their instructor, a promising Glee Club was organized. Once organized it will succeed.

As it is a new organization in the school it will take some time for it to become widely known. At present the club has nineteen members and it is hoped that next semester will find it a much larger organization.

The Glee Club includes the already popular quartet composed of Raymond Thro, tenor; Edward Pizer, second tenor; Wayne Thompson, baritone; and Gerald Johnson, bass.

The Boys' Glee Club took part in the final musical event of the year which was in the form of a Chinese Operetta which was branded a success by everyone. Having organized, it has become surprisingly progressive and we will soon see Rockford High School with a Glee Club to be proud of.

The Rockford High School Band

JOHN T. HAIGHT, DIRECTOR

The day following commencement last June was a very eventful one for forty-six members of the Rockford High School Band, which left early on the morning of June 17 for Atlantic City, to represent Rockford at the great Rotary convention there. That never to be forgotten trip, including stops at Washington, Gettysburg, Philadelphia, and Niagara Falls, was followed by a day at the Elks' convention in Chicago in July.

The material left in September was not all that could have been wished, since a large percentage of the band making the trip had graduated, and there was a great deal of new material with which to work. However, the practice obtained at the football games in the fall was of great help, and tended to weld the individual members into the compact, smooth working organization that every band should be. Through the generosity of the city's business men, the band boys were sent to accompany the team and rooters to the out of town games with East Aurora and Freeport, and they were on hand at all local games. In December the organization was present at one of the weekly Rotary luncheons, when Director Haight formally received a silver loving cup sent as a token of appreciation by the Rotary Club of Philadelphia, where the boys spent one Sunday on the way East. The closing event of the year was a very successful banquet, attended by many of the alumni.

With the new year opened the basketball season, and as usual the band was present at every home game, and played at nearly all of the tournament games, concluding with a concert on Saturday night and a rousing send-off for the team when they left for the state meet. Besides sponsoring a concert of the Lawrence College Glee Club, the band itself gave two well attended concerts, the first being in conjunction with the Episcopal Boys' Choir in February. Here such a success was staged that people had to be turned away at the door. The second concert was the annual one, April 15 and 16, at which some novel and amusing numbers were introduced; also a great deal of first-class music.

As usual, the band has performed for a number of school affairs during the season, playing for several school parties, assemblies, and a number of rallies. Their playing for the cadets at one of the reviews called forth high praise from an army officer enroute to Cuba to join his regiment. On a few civic occasions the band did its part.

At each commencement the graduating members leave a vacancy hard to fill, but with attention and effort the new members succeed each year in measuring up to past attainments. The 1921 band is no exception. We point with pride to the results of the fourteenth year and wish continued success to "Our Band."

"Our Coaches"

E. U. McDONALD, Heavy Weight Coach

F. J. Winters left the Rockford High school at the close of last year's basket ball season to accept a position at the University of Illinois. When he left a new coach for the heavyweights was needed. E. U. McDonald, for two years coach of the lightweights, was given the job to succeed the wonderful mentor "F.J." Coach McDonald took over his new position with a record that was sure to make him develop a winner in the major class. He has shown his coaching powers in his first year with the heavyweights. With a few veterans he developed one of the best elevens the High school has boasted. In basket ball his record is another glaring point. Tying for conference, winning the district meet, and playing into the finals in the state meet, is a record for any coach to be praised. "Mac" we're proud to have you with us and may you enjoy many more successful years at Rockford High School.

Fighting "Ike" Beyer is back with us again and we are all glad to have him with us. After one year as military teacher in the Cleveland schools, and one year as coach at Lawrence College, his Alma Mater, Mr. Beyer returns to Rockford as Physical Director and lightweight coach. He has the same old fight that has turned out the fine football and basket ball teams in previous years. Considering the material he had to work with in both branches of sport this year not too much credit can be given him for his showing. His lightweight football team was one of the best scoring machines in the history of the conference. With every man out for basket ball playing their first year his basket ball record is one to be proud of. Again we say we're glad to have you with us again, Mr. Beyer.

C. A. BEYER, Physical Director and Light weight Coach

The Heavyweight Season

With the departure of F. J. Winters from the local school E. U. McDonald was chosen major mentor of the Red and Black eleven, and he developed a team that made a wonderful record for the 1921 season. The team went through the season without a defeat, an achievement which has not been made by the Rockford heavyweights since the year of 1910.

The "Big Seven" Conference race ended in a tie, Rockford and Elgin halved the honors of league. Elgin and Rock Island played the locals to tie games, Rockford scoring wins over all other opponents during the season.

Edwin Anderson was elected to lead the team of "20" and he proved a very capable leader. "Zula" and his mates deserve much praise for their work on the gridiron.

Rockford opened the season against Crane Technical of Chicago. Crane presented a veteran team and Coach McDonald used his most promising material in the initial game winning by a score of 7 to 6. Crane scored a touchdown in the closing minutes of play but failure to kick goal gave Rockford a victory.

The following week Joliet opposed Rockford in the first Conference game, and were smothered under a 100 to 0 count by the locals. Baker's and McCoy's end runs were a constant menace to the surprisingly weak Joliet eleven.

Beloit High was next on the roll of the vanquished. Perfect forward passing and machine-like team work centered around a backfield of stars returned Rockford a 28 to 12 victor.

The locals journeyed to East Aurora the following week and won another conference game. Playing the usual good brand of ball "the jinx" which had been with Rockford for several years in the East Aurora battles was thrown aside, and the Red and Black crew emerged a 27 to 6 winner.

In the third conference game of the season West Aurora, threw a scare into the local camp. The Aurorans proved stiff opposition and only by a pretty drop-kick by Baker was Rockford able to earn a 3 to 0 triumph over the West High eleven.

The next game on the Rockford card was a real battle. Elgin came down here to oppose the locals in the game which would practically decide the conference championship. In one of the fastest and hardest fought battles seen on the local field the rivals battled to a 3 to 3 count. Britton, Elgin's star fullback, sent the ball over the goal from placement early in the game and Baker of Rockford retaliated with a 33-yard drop-kick shortly after for the only scores of the game. Aside from these two scores play was about even, the ball being kept continually in midfield the greater part of the game.

Rockford journeyed to DeKalb the following Saturday and added another Conference victory. The Baker to Kasch forward pass combination played a prominent part in the 34 to 7 win.

Freeport bowed to Rockford in the final "Big Seven" game of the year, losing 21 to 0.

On Thanksgiving day Rock Island claimants for the state title opposed the locals here. Rockford held a 14 to 7 lead with only a few minutes left to play and a local win seemed certain. But then the fun began. Duncan, speedy Islander halfback, caught one of Baker's punts and ran 80 yards for a touchdown shortly before the whistle blew. Shetter kicked goal and gave the Islanders a tie in the turkey day battle. The game furnished more than enough thrills for the closing of a brilliant season.

The 1921 team scored 237 points to their opponent's 48, and also hung up another Conference record when they scored 100 points in one game, Joliet being the victim. This is the highest score made by any school in the Conference, 99 being the previous record.

Of last year's team eight men played their last games for the High school. Captain Anderson, E. Pelgen, Lester Agnew, R. Marelli, O. Bell, W. McCoy, R. Dannenburg, and W. Kasch finishing their high school athletic careers. The following "R" men will be back next year: Captain-elect F. L. Fridley, Baker, Derr, Page, Atwood, Seal.

The Lightweight Season

With the return of Mr. Beyer after a two years' stay at Cleveland, and Lawrence College at Appleton, Wisconsin, to coach the lightweights a banner year was anticipated.

Although there were only three men back from last year's squad, Mr. Beyer turned out a well oiled and easy scoring machine.

This year's team easily equaled that of last year's team. They were only scored upon once, and that was the strong Freeport team. The team scored 363 points to their opponent's 7 points.

Not only was the team well coached, but it was led by the ablest captain in years, Kenneth Walden. Walden was always in the thick of the fray. For his fight and pluck he was chosen on the all-star team.

Rockford started the season by defeating the Rockford Beavers 25 to 0.

Joliet came with a strong and confident team, but were overcome by a superior and better coached team, 51 to 0.

Beloit, although weighing twice as much as our team were easily beaten by the count of 55 to 0.

Rockford journeyed to East Aurora and brought home the "bacon," winning 14 to 0. This game was slow, due to the fact that J. Anderson was not in uniform to mount the score higher.

We came back home and had a track meet with West Aurora. When the score was read it stood 88 to 0 in Rockford's favor.

Elgin was going to put a kink into the Rockford squad, but they were humbled to the tune of 76 to 0. The following Saturday we went to DeKalb and on the mountainous field we came home with the long end of the 47 to 0 score.

We went to Freeport the following Saturday to decide the Lightweight Championship. Freeport had a veteran team and were picked to win, but we continually hammered their goal, but to no avail. We deserved the game, but had to be contented with the score of 7 to 7.

On Thanksgiving Carl Schurz, champions of Cook county, came here to add another scalp. The game was a battle from start to finish. The last game of the season ended 0 to 0.

This is a record to be proud of, and as H. Swenson, Redin, Hutchins, Fridley, J. Anderson, Miltimore, Friberg, H. Johnson, Grahn, J. Johnson, and Christopherson of this year's squad will be back, another successful year is in prospect.

Heavyweight Basket Ball

The 1921 basket ball season was another successful one for the local school. Coach McDonald turned out a team that made a very splendid record for the year. Of the 20 games played Rockford won 16. The "Big Seven" Conference race was coincident to the football season when Rockford and Elgin finished the season with five wins and one defeat each.

Baker was the only "R" man eligible to play the entire season, with Miltimore the leading scorer of the lightweights the year previous, a sure man for a major berth. Anderson and McCoy were ineligible after their eighth semester, and their loss proved a blow to the team. The loss of these two men was greatly offset with the return of Carlson at the time of Anderson's and McCoy's departure. Carlson proved a valuable acquisition to the squad and was a shining light in the team's success.

Ralph Baker was chosen to pilot the 1921 team and a better choice could not have been made. His ability to toss in baskets played an important part in the many triumphs of the majors. He was a unanimous choice for the all-state mythical team.

Miltimore at one forward was probably the best offensive man in the Conference which made him a popular selection on the all-Conference five. He possessed an uncanny eye for the basket and was one of the leading scorers of the Big Seven Conference.

Ledger at center played a consistent game of basket ball throughout the season and his ability to get the tipoff at center was a great asset in the Rockford attack.

Carlson was one of the best guards that Rockford ever had, proving a barrier to every team that opposed the locals. His work at the state meet was of the quality to be honored on the all-state selection. Carlson ought to have a greater year during next basket ball season.

Pelgen playing at running guard was pretty to watch and his work alongside of Carlson made a defense that few teams could penetrate.

Gleichman was a first rate substitute and could fill in any position most handily. He is back next year, and watch him go.

Fridley, our football captain-elect, can also play basket ball. "Mac" often called upon Fridley at critical moments and he performed in handy style.

Kasch was a valuable man at the forward position and a reserve that Mac could rely upon. His work in the district and state meets is worthy of consideration.

Several men including Nelson, Beynon, Lindquist, Deusler, and Rowan, gave good service to the team although they did not play the required length of time to be awarded "R's." Most of them are back next year and ought to make strong bids for major berths.

Of this year's team Ledger, Pelgen, and Kasch are lost by graduation but with Baker, Miltimore, Carlson, Gleichman, and Fridley of the "R" men back, and several good substitutes another winner should represent the local school. Wait and see.

Lightweight Basket Ball

Too much credit cannot be given Mr. Beyer for his work as lightweight coach of the 1920 team. The season was started without a single veteran from last year's championship team. He had to build up a team entirely of green material. When the men reported he had to spend considerable time before even finding a team that looked like real contenders. Mr. Beyer showed wonderful ability developing a team out of raw recruits. They did great work in getting as far as they did in the Conference standing.

Behr who was the class of the Conference was a man little known, but he soon developed into one of the best scoring men in the "Big Seven." At the end of the season he was chosen on the tournament squad. As he will return next year great things are expected of him.

Grahn, the lanky center, did fine work for his team. He played a fine floor game and strong on defense. He has a good chance to land a heavyweight berth next year.

The lightweights had a stellar man in Bob Reitsch. At guard he stopped everything that came his way and few baskets were made from his side of the floor.

Another strong guard was R. Brolin. He played a consistent game of ball throughout the entire season.

In Jack Anderson Rockford had a good basket shooter and dribbler. His timely baskets when his team was behind put pep and fight into the rest of the team, and snatched many a game from the fire.

C. Johnson was a man who could play any position. Whenever he was called upon he performed well.

R. Kelley played a good game at guard and next year he ought to be better than ever.

H. Johnson was also a bright light in the lightweight roster. He was there with the needed goods.

Other players who deserve mention for their past work are D. Anderson, C. Brolin, H. Swenson, and J. Shaw, and they should find little difficulty in making the team next year.

WITH AN OCCASIONAL SPARK FROM ALLEN

CORRECTING A SENTENCE.

"Can anyone tell me what is wrong with this sentence?" asked the primary teacher as she wrote on the board, "The toast was drank in silence."

The pupils studied for a few moments, then the pride of the class went to the board and wrote the following correction, "The toast was ate in silence."

INSIDE DOPE.

"Sure, and Mike was killed by a sudden attack of appendicitis."

"Might have know it was one of them treacherous Greeks."

Birnie: "See this chalk on my shoulder?"

Carl W.: "Yeh."

Birnie: "Well, that ain't chalk."

FAMOUS COMBINATIONS.

AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM.

"Why, Freddie!" exclaimed the mother of a precocious five-year old, "Aren't you ashamed to call Auntie, stupid? Go at once and tell her that you are very sorry!"

"Auntie," said the little fellow a few moments later, "I'm awful sorry you are so stupid."

CAN THIS BEE?

Bill J.: I hear Johnnie's sick.

Clint: What's wrong?

William: Last night his girl called him honey, and this morning he broke out with the hives.

WHY HE NAMED HER.

First Ducky: Well I dun went and bought me a cow and I calls her United States.

Second Darkey: Well, what a name; and what for you all call her U. S.

First D.: Caze the cow is dun going dry.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Nancy: When a man is angry he tells you what he thinks of you.

Clyde: Yes, and when a woman is angry she tells you what she and everybody else thinks of you.

SCANDALOUS!

A Virginia editor threatened to publish the names of a certain young man who was seen hugging and kissing a girl in the park unless his subscription to the paper was paid up in a week. Fifty-nine young men called and paid up the next day, while two even paid a year in advance.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

"Before we were married, Richard," reproached the young wife, "you always gave me the most beautiful presents, do you remember?"

"Sure," responded Richard cheerfully, "but my dear, did you ever hear of a fisherman giving bait to a fish after he had caught it?"

John Doe, Senior inmate of a deaf and dumb asylum, yesterday broke his right thumb hollering fire.

TOO POLITE TO MENTION IT.

Carl W. (11:30): Well I must be off.

Mary K.: That's what I thought when I first met you.

ENGLISH.

Valet: Beg pardon, Sir, but I 'ave an idea I 'ear burglars in the dining room.

Master: By Jove, bring the shot gun and I'll wear my sport suit.

THEY CERTAINLY DO.

"Now give an example of how 'circumstances alter cases.'"

"Well, Milwaukee isn't famous any more."

"Ah!" he cried, as he picked up an egg from the piano stool, "the lay of the last minstrel."

WHAT DID HE MEAN?

Luggie: At the party I thought your costume was ripping.

Elizabeth C.: Well, if you were a gentleman, you would have told me so!

THE FEMALE MIND.

The Man at the Wheel: The engine seems to be missing, dear.

The Girl: Never mind, darling, it doesn't show.

NONE NEEDED.

Father: I thought I heard that fellow kissing you last night. I hope you didn't encourage him.

She: No, father, I didn't need to.

"I'm not doing this on my own account," said the forger as he passed over the check.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK THAT—

Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's Genius.

Some men can sign a check and make it worth $50,000. That's Capital.

The U. S. Government can take an ounce of silver worth 50 cents and make it worth one dollar. That's Money.

A mechanic can take material worth $5.00 and make it into a watch spring worth $50.00. That's skill.

Howard Chandler Christy can take a 50 cent piece of canvas and paint a picture on it worth hundreds of dollars. That's Art.

A merchant can take an article worth 50 cents and sell it for $1. That's Business.

Girls can buy a hat for $29.99. That's Vanity.

The author of this jingle can write a check for $5.00, but it wouldn't be worth a cent. That's Tough.

TUFF!

"The way of the transgressor is hard," said the pastor who was visiting the penitentiary.

"That's right," agreed the convict. "They make you go to church every Sunday in this place."

NO, THE HUMIDITY.

He: "I had a terrible dream last night. I dreamt I was dead. And what do you suppose woke me?"

She: "I haven't the least idea. The heat?"

LOVE IS BLIND.

"I love to work," the old tramp said, "And work I've tried to find, But none of it will come my way—I guess love must be blind."

SAD, BUT TRUE.

"Is Rockefeller's money tainted?"

"Yes; in two ways: 'Tain't yours, and 'Tain't mine."—(Apologies to S. K. Smith).

FOOLED HIM.

"Lil": "Can you drive with one hand?"

"Pat" (eagerly): "You bet I can."

"Lil" (sweetly): "Then won't you please pick my handkerchief up off the floor?"

BREAKING IT GENTLY.

Doctor (at accident): Who—who will volunteer to tell this man's wife that he is hurt?

Bright Guy: Get Jones to break the news—he stutters.

SO THEY SAY.

"Would you like to take a walk with me?"

"But I don't know you—"

"Ah, but what you don't know won't hurt you."

TWO BAD.

"Did he marry a brunette? I thought he married a blonde."

"He did, but she dyed."

NATURALLY.

'Twas mid-night in the parlor

'Twas darkness everywhere.

The silence was unbroken, for

THERE IS NO FEELING QUITE LIKE IT.

Birnie Ross is a striking young man. He is very good looking, interesting, and is well liked by all his associates, both male and female. He is always dressed smartly, and wears the best of everything. He is always on the alert to be able to lend a helping hand to anyone in need of assistance. There can be no doubt of the fact that he is a good catch.

He is in love with—oh, well, the name doesn't count, as it's a different one everyday. He has no eyes for anyone else for the time being.

The afternoon is beautiful, and Birnie decides to stroll down State Street and give the natives a treat. He sets out with his latest crush and a tolerant smile on his lips. And everyone smiles back at him. Wherever he goes he notices smiles upon the faces of those who pass him. Now and then he sees a friend—he, too, smiles, and more broadly than the rest. Birnie thinks it is great of everybody to smile that way, but how can they help it, the two make such a splendid couple.

So on they stroll, and he meets each smile with an answering one, and he waxes ever greater in his own self-esteem. But are they smiling at him because of his pleasing appearance, or because he appears so worthy of the beautiful girl who walks at his side? No. They are smiling because as he strolls complacently along—one of his garters is trailing behind him as he walks.

STINGY.

Customer (in music seller's): I want a copy of the "Stolen Rope."

Assistant: I am afraid I don't know of such a song.

Customer: Why, it goes tum-tum-tumpty-tum.

Assistant: Oh, you mean the "Lost Chord."

Customer: Ah, that's it.

SHAKESPEARE AT A GLANCE.

Miss Wilbur gave her classes a test in which she asked them to name five of Shakespeare's plays. Among the titles received were these: "King Liar," "A Merchant of Venus," "Old Fellow," "McBath," "Omelet."

FIFTY-FIFTY.

The aviator turned to his passenger: "Fifty per cent of those people below think we'll never return alive," he said, boastfully.

"That's not all," said the passenger. "Fifty percent of us up here think so, too."

A DEFINITION.

Each flea firmly believes that he lives on the most wonderful dog in the world. That's patriotism.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

A handful of tacks wrapped in cheese cloth and rubbed vigorously over polished furniture, will remove old scratches.

H. C.: What's the matter with Mr. DuFrain's eyes?

S.: They're all right as far as I know. Why?

H. C.: Well I had to go and see him in his office yesterday afternoon, and he asked me twice where my hat was, and it was on my head all the time.

EXCEEDINGLY SO.

'23: Was the exam very steep?

Also: A 60 percent grade!

About a high school we're told, there are two sad things. One of them is graduating; the other is not graduating.

"I Wonder If He'll Miss Me," sang the young lady with a cracked voice, from the stage. And from the balcony came the answer from Mr. Haight, "If he does he ought never to be trusted with a gun."

NEVER JUDGE FROM APPEARANCES.

CRASH!

The orchestra softly played
"Kiss me again."
She gazed into his eyes
And breathed a sigh.
"Your dancing is like a poem,"
She said,
"Yes, yes go on," he
Murmured.
"An Amy Lowell poem;
The feet
Are all mixed up," she answered.

SARCASM.

He (receiving another poke on foot): You remind me of Maryn Miller.
She: Oh, do I? Why?
He (brutal): You are such a good toe dancer.

AMERICAN NOBILITY.

"He comes from a royal family."
"How so?"
"His mother was a movie queen, and his father was a cattle king."

NOT THE ONLY ONE AFFECTED.

He: I tell you, darling, my love for you is driving me mad.
She: Well, keep quiet about it. It's having the same effect on papa.

O-o-o-h!

Starched Front: What makes everybody want to kiss Carol?
Decollete: Her lipstick.

Clown: What became of the ventriloquist you used to have?

Circus manager: Oh, he found he could make more money selling parrots.

A freshman slipped on a bit of ice
And descended violently;
"I may look green to all the world,
"But I'm black and blue," said he.

He: "May I kiss your hand?"
She (lifting veil): "My gloves are on."

Mr. Burroughs: Why don't you make the bread mother used to make?

Mrs. B.: Why don't you make the dough father used to make?

He: You're a hot sketch.

She: Be careful, sir. Your compliment is a bit overdrawn.

She: Don't you put your arm around me here in such a public place. Show your bringing up.

He: I didn't have much; I grew up fast.

EARLY TRAINING COUNTS.

The detail had just arrived near the front lines when the captain looked around and noticed a private, hatless, and coatless.

"Where's the rest of your uniform?" he demanded.

"Back where we came from."

"Go back and get it."

The private vanished and later reappeared, correctly uniformed, but without his rifle.

"Where's your gun?"

"Left it back where we came from."

"Listen!" bellowed the captain. "You're a fine soldier. What were you in civilian life?"

"Plumber's assistant."

ON A PULLMAN.

"Say, porter, that isn't right; one's a black shoe an' the other is a tan."

"Dat's a funny thing, boss; you am de second man dis morning what tole me dat."

SOLICITOUS.

The chauffeur was speeding the car along at a great rate. And He and She were nestled cozyly in the back seat. After a long silence, he said:

"Are you quite comfortable, dear?"

"Yes, love."

"The cushions are cozy and soft?"

"Yes, darling."

"You don't feel any jolts?"

"No, sweetest one."

"And there is no draught on your back?"

"No, my ownest own."

"Then change seats with me."

A hair brush has given many an actor his best part.

About DIAMONDS and Why
You Should Invest
In Them

MESSAGE NO. 1

Why do you admire diamonds? Why do any of us take such pride in the possession of a fine genuine diamond? To think about it is to arrive at an answer.

Of course, it's because, aside from their acknowledged beauty and the value that association places on them, diamonds possess an intrinsic value. This advantage puts the diamond in a class all by itself. You can spend and save at the same time when you buy a diamond.

There is always a ready market for them even after you have had your diamonds for years.

That is why we urge you to invest your savings, as little as $1.00 a week, in genuine diamonds. But be sure they are genuine diamonds, and good diamonds. The kind that you are always assured of getting at

Start now to invest your savings in GENUINE diamonds and take pride in their possession while paying for them in weekly payments. AS LOW as $1.00 PER WEEK.

KC—Just one?

She—Did you meet any stage robbers while you were out west?
He—Yes, I took a couple of chorus girls out to dinner.

R. Baker— Watcha gonna do t'night?
Cease Derr—Nothing. What you gonna do?

Baker—Nothing.
Derr—Who else will play?

"I don't like your heart action," said the medical examiner. "You're troubled with Angina Pectoris."

"You're partly right, doctor," said the applicant sheepishly, "only that ain't her name."

Hokus—When is a davenport not a davenport?

When it is a spoon holder.

NOBODY LOVES HIM.

A woodpecker sat on a Freshman's head

And settled down to drill.

He pecked and pecked and pecked away his bill.

Jack—Do you and Henry do much

Jill—No we have a davenport now.

During the holidays the orchestra

THE VALUE OF AN EDUCATION.

First Citizen—That young fellow over there looks like he had had a college education.

Second Citizen—Why? What's wrong with him?

Customer—How does it happen that you can sell duck for fifty cents a plate?

Waiter—That's easy. We bought it before the war.

AFTER THE THEATRE.

How does the play end? Do they get married?

No, it ends happily.

Are they seasoned troops?

They ought to be. First they were mustered in by their officers and then they were peppered by the enemy.

Jiggs—Don't you think Jones was a fool for committing suicide?

Muggs—Yes, its about the last thing I'd ever do.

He didn't want to hit him hard, so he pulled the trigger easy.

BAD HABITS.

Why did you break off your engagement with that school teacher?

Every night I didn't show up she wanted a written excuse.

Clergyman (who sat down next to a slightly intoxicated man): "Do you allow a drunk on this car?"

Conductor (low voice): "It's all right so long as you don't get noisy."

A woman was frantically running around in a five and ten cent store. She seemed to be in a great hurry and was looking for a clerk.

"Can't somebody get me a mouse trap," she gasped, "I have to catch a train."

Young Lady (turning pages of album)—And this is my father.

Caller—You certainly resemble him.

Young Lady—That's funny, He's my stepfather.

I fell for her in the book room,
'Twas a stormy night outside;
Oh, yes, of course, I took her home
That evening from the Libe.
She was blue-eyed, blonde and rosy;
Rosie, I think, was her name
She had red lips, n' everything—
That camouflage a jane.
But the best thing of all about her,
Better than all her good looks,
She was plump, and warm, and filled
my arms—
Yes, filled my arms—with books.

rushed for the stairway.

"April fool, said the young hopeful. It's only papa."

Zula—Football requires some application. doesnt it?

Marelli—No, any kind of liniment will do."

Father (upstairs)—It is time for that man to go home.

Young Man—Your father is a crank.

Father (overhearing)—Well, when you don't have a self-starter, a crank comes mighty handy.

EFFICIENCY AND THE EYES

Every person knows that reduced efficiency results in the loss of just about everything worth while. Many a person has increased the volume and value of the work he does by giving his eyes needed attention. That seems so simple that one would imagine that everyone would give his eyes every care, but thousands are laboring against odds at this minute who need nothing but the attention of an optometrist to increase their efficiency fifty per cent.

WE ARE STUDENTS OF OPTOMETRY

We are constantly grasping every meritorious idea that assists us in more successfully examining the eyes and fitting proper glasses. Our optical department is under the personal care of Albert Daniels, O. D., a licensed optometrist of fifteen years experience.

ASCHER'S MIDWAY THEATRE

The Midway Theatre presents all the greatest productions of the world's leading studios. On its screen you may see the greatest screen stars in portrayals of your favorite stories.

Add to this the enhancing music of the large and capable symphony orchestra under the direction of Mr. Jos. Copeland, to say nothing of the magnificent large Moller Organ. With the superior ventilation and always evident courtesy given its patrons, the Midway stands on a par with any motion picture theatre in the country. It is truly the home of
